

The European Legal Forum

The European Legal Forum informs regularly on the developments in the various areas of the European ius commune. The following overview lists the range of subjects and disciplines covered.

Not all subjects can be covered without exception in every issue. Above all, topics of special interest also arise in those legal fields, in which the process of the European unification of laws is in an advanced stage of development. However, The European Legal Forum endeavours to grant appropriate attention to all of the legal fields listed in the overview, according to their significance in the development of the European ius commune.

1. Private International Law and International Civil Procedure

- 1.1. Civil procedure
- 1.2. Private international law
- 1.3. Family and succession law
- 1.4. Insolvency law
- 1.5. Property law; trusts; real estate law; foreign investments; endowments
- 1.6. Arbitration

2. International and European Commercial and Company Law

- 2.1. Uniform sales law; distribution law
- 2.2. Transport law; maritime law; aviation law
- 2.3. Company law; corporate governance

3. International and European Business and Competition Law

- 3.1. European competition law; merger control
- 3.2. Unfair competition; advertising law
- 3.3. Special business law
Banking law; telecommunications law; media law; energy law, etc.

4. International and European Intellectual Property Law

- 4.1. Industrial property rights and copyright law
- 4.2. IT law; computer and software law

5. European Consumer Law

6. International and European Labour Law

7. Law of the European Organisations

8. The European Legal Profession

9. Information on Current Issues

Initiatives arising from the European Community (e.g. directive and regulation projects)
Pending proceedings (ECJ, the Court of First Instance, the Strasbourg Court, etc.)
Current developments in International Organisations engaged in the elaboration of uniform law