

The European Legal Forum

The European Legal Forum informs regularly on the developments in the various areas of the European ius commune. The following overview lists the range of subjects and disciplines covered.

Not all subjects can be covered without exception in every issue. Above all, topics of special interest also arise in those legal fields, in which the process of the European unification of laws is in an advanced stage of development. However, The European Legal Forum endeavours to grant appropriate attention to all of the legal fields listed in the overview, according to their significance in the development of the European ius commune.

1. Law of the European Organisations

2. International and European Commercial and Company Law

- 2.1. International and uniform sales law; distribution law; free movement of goods in the EU
- 2.2. Transport law; maritime law; aviation law
- 2.3. Company law; corporate governance

3. International and European Business and Competition Law

- 3.1. European competition law; merger control
- 3.2. Unfair competition; advertising law
- 3.3. Special business law
Banking law; telecommunications law; media law; energy law, etc.

4. European Intellectual Property Law

- 4.1. Industrial property rights and copyright law
- 4.2. IT law; e-commerce; computer and software law

5. International Private Law and European Harmonisation of Private Law

- 5.1. International private law
- 5.2. Consumer protection
- 5.3. Civil liability
- 5.4. Property law
Trusts; real estate law; foreign investments; endowments
- 5.5. Family and probate law

6. International and European Procedural Law

- 6.1. International and European civil procedure
- 6.2. International arbitration
- 6.3. International insolvency law

7. International and European Labour and Social Security Law

8. International and European Tax Law

9. The European Legal Profession

10. Information on Current Issues

Initiatives arising from the European Community (e.g. directive and regulation projects)
Pending proceedings (ECJ, the Court of First Instance, the Strasbourg Court, etc.)
Current developments in International Organisations engaged in the elaboration of uniform law

Forum iuris communis Europae